

paintings of Sir Edwin Landseer - others by Gainsborough - and portraits of by Sir Thomas (?) Lawrence which were unmarkably good - We came home to five o'clock tea - and after tea we dressed for dinner - Met Miss Moore - and Mr Charles Ward brother of Mr Ward - I sang a great deal -

Thursday
Dec 29.

Went out with Will - took his match to Leicester - In the afternoon went with Mrs Ward and Miss Ward - & Miss Mariner Ward - to see a collection of French paintings - a "facetious" man!!!! - One very good one by Greuze - called the "Femur" nothing else at all extraordinary - At dinner we met Miss Blanche Moore - and Mr William - I sang as usual a great deal -

and
Mr White
(a priest)

Friday
Dec 30.

I went out with Will - stopped at Mrs Bell's - lunched at a restaurant - went to Westminster Abbey where we saw Henry VII Chapel and as well as a great many others - The oldest tomb is Becket the Legation built in (I think) 619. - We spent a very interesting two hours there - I saw the place where my Dickens was laid -
